Finleyville Bank Robber is Sentenced

Washington, Pa., Nov. 29.—Jack Hogan, convicted of robbing, aiding and abetting the robbery of and breaking and entering the First National Bank at Finleyville, was sentenced today by Judge J. A. McIlvaine to serve 18 to 20 years in the Western Penitentiary. There was also a charge of violating his parole against Hogan, who, convicted in 1916 of robbing the Pennsylvania Railroad station at Midway and sentenced to 10 years in prison, had served three years of that time and was released on parole. On this charge he was sentenced to serve an additional seven years, which he had not served at that time. The two sentences made a total of at least 25 years for Hogan to serve.

Hogan declared his innocense to the last, alleging that the testimony of Herman Barndell, a prisoner in a cell adjoining that in which Hogan was confined, had been framed. Barndell testified that Hogan had confessed to him that he had committed the robbery. The prisoner was taken to Pittsburgh tonight by County Detectives Bert Laird and John Weiner.

Sloane Daugherty of Monongahela City and Paul Woods of New Eagle, are under arrest charged with being implicated in the robbery of the Finleyville bank and are also charged with numerous other crimes, including the robbery of a Finleyville hardware store.

Prepare For Bazaar

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church has arranged to hold a bazaar and bake sale in the basement of the Christian church, Saturday afternoon and evening of this week, Dec. 4th. There will be a regular carnival of booths displaying the handiwork of the ladies and the donations of local business people. The doll booth will have a display of home dressed dolls ranging in price from twenty-five cents up. All of the dolls will range in price according to size and expense of costume, but from the smallest to the largest, the wearing apparel will be artistic and attractive.

A special feature of the bazaar will be what is to be known as the "Mystery Booth" where packages will be offered for sale sight unseen. The packages will contain donations from many sources and will be offered at the nominal price of 50 cents each with value guaranteed. Hardly a single package but what contains a value above fifty cents.

A solicitation of the business houses has brought a ready response and the liberality and generosity of the doners will reward the purchasers of the packages. This feature is not only new but it is novel.

The fancywork booth will certainly attract the eye of all who have a facination for needlework of all kinds. The ladies have been busy for months getting together an assortment of all kinds of the most useful and ornamental fancy work. The apron booth will be provided with all kinds of apparel that belongs to the apron family and there will be a lot of accessories thrown in.

In addition to all of the above there will be a candy booth which will contain all of the finest assortments of home made candies provided by the young ladies of the church, put up in nice packages and so arranged as to make suitable Christmas gifts. The bake sale will also be a rare feature where will be found home made pies, cakes, bread and pastries of every description. The church basement will present the appearance of an enterprise productive of much effort worthy of the support of the community and the ladies will appreciate generous patronage. Everybody invited.

Paralysis Fatal

Mrs. Lizzie Dixon, aged 48 years, formerly of Connellsville, Pa., died Monday, Nov. 29, 1920, at 9:15 p. m., at her home, on Aberdeen avenue this city. Paralysis was the cause of death. She leaves behind a husband and four children, Mrs. Geo. McGudden of Monessen, Mrs Harry Stokes of Connellsville, Mrs. Irene Robinson and Mrs. Georgia Booker of Youngstown, Ohio. Also one brother and two sisters of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Rose Twiman and Pricilla Payne. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at the home, 66 Aberdeen avenue, Wireton, conducted by the Rev. Seely of Monessen, assisted by Rev. Ford of Uniontown.

NOTICE

The Ladies Aid Society of the United Brethren church will hold their annual bazaar and bake sale on December 10th, in the Motz Lumber Co., office on Donner ave. 47-6tp

Returns With Bride

Joseph Greylock, a former member of the local police force, gave his many friends quite a surprise, when he arrived home last evening with his bride, who was a former resident of Knoxville, Tenn. The young man, a son of Mrs. Josephine Greylock and brother of Mrs. J. Rummel of 35 East Schoonmaker avenue, left here last Monday on a supposedly business trip to New York City, but instead he hied to the south and was married Saturday of last week, returning last evening to receive the congratulations of his pleasantly surprised friends. The young man was recently discharged from the army, having served over seas during the World War. The couple will make their future home in this city.

Street Cars Collide

(By United Press)

Pittsburgh, Nov. 30.—Seven persons were slightly injured this morning when three street cars collided at the south end of the Mt. Washington tunnel. A McKinley avenue street car struck and coupled with a Knoxville car and the two collided with a Warrington avenue car.

Stole Payroll

Detectives of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad are investigating the mysterious payroll robbery in the office of Yard Master Thomas Copeland at Newell last Friday. It was stated that the thieves secured checks totaling $3,500 from the office and so far the officials working on the case have been unable to find any trace of them.

Suspect Under Arrest

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Robert Miller, aged 22, who gave his home as Greensburg, was under arrest here on a technical charge of vagrancy. It is believed he is one of a party of gunmen wanted for a recent robbery at Scottdale. He was held under $5,000 bond.

Struck By Auto

An automobile [illegible] "Arnold Fort" which by the way is [illegible], struck Calvin B. Power, a highly respected citizen of Fairhope, one day last week, while he was walking along the pike near his home, knocking him down and injuring him very seriously about the head and body. Mr. Power is over 80 years of age. Following the accident the driver stopped his machine and assisted in taking Mr. Power to his home, after which he disappeared with his car. His identity is not known, as those attracted to the scene of the accident apparently were too much excited to look after this detail.

MONESSEN AND ROSTRAVER TEACHERS ARE ATTENDING ANNUAL INSTITUTE HERE

The Ninth Annual Teachers Institute of Monessen and Rostraver township opened in the High school building Monday afternoon at 1:30. The institute sessions have been differently arranged this year from previous sessions. The first half of each morning and afternoon will be devoted to meetings of various groups of teachers in separate class rooms. These sectional sessions will be conducted by educators who are experts, each along his own line, and the instruction given will aim to give the teacher practical suggestions and help in meeting her particular problem. At 10:15 a. m. and 2:35 p. m. popular sessions will be held in the auditorium for both teachers and patrons, when topics of general interest will be presented. It is hoped that all friends and patrons of our schools will make an earnest effort to take advantage of this splendid educational opportunity.

The first Departmental sessions were occupied in meeting the instructors, hearing the plan of work outlined and in the opening address of each session. The High school and Junior High school teachers, who met in the library, were instructed by Superintendent Ben G. Graham of the New Castle schools. Mr. Graham is probably the most eminent authority in the state on junior High school work. His quiet but forceful and convincing method of presentation made a favorable impression on all those under his instruction as looking forward to a very helpful week's work. Prof. Graham took for his subject "Discipline; Indirect Control." He said that indirect control, or discipline which does not appear upon the surface, depends largely upon the [illegible] and personality of the teacher. In order to control a group of pupils in this way, the work of the class must begin immediately at the beginning of the recitation.

The attention of the [illegible] must be maintained by keeping all members of the class working all the time, giving the most [illegible] extra work, if necessary, to keep them employed. The entire class must be kept mentally alert, by developing new material in class and insisting upon an accounting at the end of the recitation. The interest of the pupils must be held, first by holding the end or motive, not the means, in mind; second, by use of concrete material; third, by having the class interpret the material used; fourth, by making each member of the class a doer, not a listener.

In order to make the method of indirect control successful, the teacher must be master. Her personality must include such qualities as a great sympathy with the pupil, personal dignity and courage in meeting whatever occasions arise.

Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg, principal of the Slippery Rock Normal school, gave his first address on the subject "The Periods of Development," to teachers of the Intermediate grades. He stated his purpose to be that of taking up one of the most vital problems of education, the problem of the child. He briefly discussed the four periods into which he so clearly divided the life of the person from birth to the age of twenty-four: the period of [illegible] infancy defined by rate growth; the period of childhood, marked by preparation; (3) the period of [illegible]; and (4) the period of adolescence, or the realization of [illegible]. Dr. Eisenberg [illegible] that the best teacher is one who [illegible] to take advantage of the [illegible] period of interest. [illegible]

Miss [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Before Miss Schmidt came to Monessen, Professor McDowell of Pittsburgh led the music drill of the institute, but since we have such a skilled conductor among our own teachers, we do not need to go away from our own town to seek leaders. Mr. Gross then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg, the principal of the State Normal School of Slippery Rock, Pa., who spoke on the subject, "The Socialized Recitation."

He gave the purposes of recitation, the imparting of new information in which the teacher should clear up the dark parts of assigned lessons. He said that most of this new information should come from the members of the class themselves under the direction of the teacher. The teacher should also have all the materials at hand with which to work, such as a dictionary, encyclopedia, etc. The third purpose of the recitation to be kept in the mind of the teacher is to try to form habits of correct study, clear thinking and correct expression. Another purpose is to insure a basis for [illegible]. If [illegible] Dr. Eisenberg gave many illustrations in the course of his lecture which were very interesting and the teachers look forward to hear him speak [illegible] the week.

School Teams To Battle For Championship

Announcement was made this morning that Monessen and Rochester High school football teams would meet Saturday afternoon of this week to decide the championship of the W. P. A. L. The game will either be played in Rochester or in this city, this question to be settled by the flip of a coin at a meeting of representatives of the two schools this evening in Pittsburgh.

Ruled out by the Chairman of the Syracuse committee on technical points, despite the fact that both teams had far better records than the two contestants selected for the honors, the Monessen and Rochester officials were urged to arrange the game in order that the logical champions of the league could be ascertained and both schools readily agreed to the post season game for the honors.

While Fifth Avenue and Washington High schools will battle for the cup at Pittsburgh, the real championship struggle will be staged at Rochester or this city and the game will undoubtedly attract thousands of fans from the two valleys as well as many from the Pittsburgh district, who realize that these two teams are the real contenders for the championship honors.

Rochester has an exceptionally strong team, being coached by Prof. Grimm, formerly of the Charleroi public schools and they have gone through the season undefeated, and like Monessen, were not even held to a tie score while the two teams selected by the committee to battle for the championship, have both been held to tie scores, Charleroi turning the trick on the Washington boys, who were also given a scare at Uniontown, only nosing out the Fayette County champions by a lone touchdown. Fifth Avenue has a rather medicore record for the season, winning out by very slim margins and being held to tie scores on two different occasions.

The officials and the place for playing the contest will be decided this evening and will be announced in tomorrow's Independent.

Ponzi Sentenced

(By United Press)

Boston, Mass, Nov. 30.—The final chapter in the career of Charles Ponzi, the financial wizzard, was written today when Judge Clarence Hale in United States District court sentenced him to five years in the Plymouth jail after he had plead guilty to using the mails to defraud. Ponzi declared he never had any intention of defrauding his clients and that if he was given his freedom he would refund every cent of the money entrusted to him by those who were attracted by his "get-rich-quick" schemes.

Monessen is taking on a gala holiday appearance. The merchants of the town have decorated their windows and arranged displays in keeping with the season and all of the town's stores present a very attractive appearance. Reprisals Started

(By United Press)

Dublin, Nov. 30—Smouldering ruins in the neighborhood of Macroom today marked the funeral rites of sixteen police murdered in ambush last Sunday night.

Immediate reprisals on the population resulted in the burning of cottages, creameries, and other buildings. The countryside was lighted last night by huge torches as thatched roofs suddenly blazed. Citizens of Kilmichael and nearby villages either remained hidden in the fields or fled to other sections.

Word here was that Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, did not propose to check the police too severely in punishing Sinn Feiners for the ambuscade that resulted in the slaughter of two lorry loads of police.

Reports of the ambush today said that from 80 to 100 men, securely hidden, poured a solid leaden fire into the lorries. The motors were halted at once and the police, firing without a target, had no chance.

Bodies toppled from the motor trucks and were still further mutilated by rifle bullets as they lay in the dusk. Only one of the detachment of 17 escaped death. He was missing, probably a prisoner.

No deaths as a result of the reprisals were reported today.

The round-up of Sinn Fein leaders continued uninterrupted today. Activity here was marked last night by raids on the newspapers as well as the Sinn Fein bank.

Refused New Trial

A motion for a new trial was refused in the Fayette County courts last week to William L. Moyer, of Belle Vernon, before Judge E. H. Reppert. Moyer was convicted at the September term of court of violation of the automobile laws. The prosecutor was M. J. Weller, who driving a Ford car along the National Pike near Turkey's Nest on Sunday morning, July 29, last, when the defendant, driving a Dodge car, struck the Ford and driving it to the wall caused it to upset and injure the occupants.

Demand Recognition

By HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Nov. 30.—America's voice was heard in the league of nations assembly today when Secretary Colby's Mesopotamian note to Great Britain caused wide comment.

The secretary's note, demanding recognition of the commercial rights of other countries in the mandate territory, was greeted warmly by neutral states without mandatories. It was declared the American note had added strength to the delegates seeking to air the activities of the league council in the distribution and administration of mandates over German colonies.

It was believed certain the mandate question would be considered in the assembly today although it may be [illegible]. Other matters expected to arise soon are the Armenian situation and the [illegible] of the former [illegible].

Son Murdered By Father

(By United Press)

Scranton, Pa, Nov. 29—Michael Keselyza, also known as Kozel, 29, of Blakely, near here, was murdered about midnight last night in his home, and his father Michael Keselyza, Sr 55, is a prisoner in the Olyphant jail charged with the crime.

The murder is said to have followed an argument between son and father over the failure of the boy to send money home when he was in the army.

The murdered son, together with his two brothers, John and George, spent the evening visiting friends. They returned to their home about 11 o'clock and sat in the kitchen talking. The father had been drinking during the last week, it is said, and after having spent the evening in town, returned home at 11:30 o'clock.

Meeting the three young men in the kitchen, he revived an old argument, it is said, relative to his son's failure to send money while he served in the army, as other young men of the borough had done.

The matter had apparently been settled and John and George went to bed, to be aroused soon afterwards by the father talking loudly. George came down stairs and it is said, found his father, who weighs 220 pounds, with a butcher knife in his hand. He grappled with his parent and threw him to the floor.

After tussling about the floor for some minutes, the father extricated himself and, rising to his feet, made for Michael, stabbed him in the back, it is alleged killing him instantly.

Blakely police were notified and patrolman Fitzpatrick went to the house and placed the father under arrest.

Women to Purify Our Civic Life

Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, vice chairman of the executive committee of the Republican national committee issued a statement from the Washington headquarters in which she declared women were not going to end their political activities with the national election just held, but are going to actively perform their duties of citizenship and take a prominent part in all local elections.

"Women are going to take prominent part in the elections hereafter," Mrs. Upton said, "and this will be the rule throughout the United States. The force of women in American politics is to be a persistent, continuing force.

"The leading women of the country are already at work upon such plans and the future promises to be an active one.

"The next step taken by women generally will be in the municipal elections soon to be held. Some of these are held in the spring; others not until the following fall. It is generally conceded that the worst governments and the worst institutions of government in the United States are in our cities. There is no better place to start to clean up proceedings than in the cities. In fact this is the very best place. This is right at home. Women are going to take a leading part and start this job with enthusiasm and determination. The conditions they will help to make right affect their everyday life and the lives of the members of their families. This work, therefore, has even a closer and a more personal interest. Women are well qualified for this particular work. City government is but a larger housekeeping and that is one thing women understand. It rather looks to some of us as though the entry of women into municipal politics means the smashing of political machines nation wide.

"Some men think women like a cleaning job but truth is they don't. What they do like is a clean house and to get it are willing to go thru the house cleaning business.

"Isn't it about time house cleaning started in many of our cities? The interest of American women in poltical matters is now nation-wide. Woman's activities during the recent campaign accentuated their interest in political work and have given them a new zeal for that sort of work that is growing rapidly.

"Lots of folks were apprehensive about the women vote. Of course, we knew such people were foolish but there were lots of them.

"Looking back we now see that the women played not only a conspicuous part in the recent campaign but contributed more than their share to their final great victory. The truth is women surprised the men folks by voting with fine and conservative judgment. In fact the women's vote was a conservative one. The vote of women in this election was more conservative in the whole than that of the men.

"Furthermore it was a distinctly patriotic vote in that the women were strongly moved by patriotic considerations. They also have a regard for local as well as national matters. I am justified in saying that women showed a wonderfully keen appreciation of the right and wrong both as to men who were candidates and as to the principles at stake.

"I sincerely believe it is not too much to say that in the enfranchisement of women our country has received permanent support from a lagre group of voters that will prove a steadying influence and one ever exerted for national welfare.

"We really can be pardoned for taking a great deal of pride in this first test of the women in a political contest. Personally I feel more than compensated for the 30 years I have labored to secure the women the vote.

"If anybody thought women would become active for a brief period and then forget all about political matters and lose all interest in them that person little understands women and is due for a big surprise. Women are not going to stop their activities with the national election just closed. The fact is they are extremely alive to the duties of citizenship, requiring attention to local conditions, both civil and municipal."

MILK TOAST DIET TOO MUCH FOR HER

"I doctored for years with only temporary relief. My liver was very bad, after eating I would always have such a fullness in my stomach and my heart would palpitate. I could not eat milk toast without distressing me. Since taking a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, more than a year ago, I can eat anything my appetite desires." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. 11

Big Problems Face Congress

By HERBERT W. WALKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 30—Congress upon reconvening next Monday will find on the Capitol steps a huge pile of demands for new legislation.

Although Congressional leaders have stated that the next session will be so short that there will be little time for any legislation except the regular appropriation bills, undismayed representatives of the scores of organizations are arriving here daily to tell congress what it ought to do.

Veteran congressmen, such as Champ Clark, believe that the de-demands for legislation will be greater than ever before and that congress will be in continuous session for more than a year after president-elect Harding takes office.

First, of course, President Wilson in his message probably will make several legislative recommendations, including some for immediate revisions in the taxes. Then will come the cabinet members and heads of various bureaus with their suggestions.

Representatives of the farmers and congressmen from farming districts will have an extensive program of agricultural readjustment to submit. With it also will be demands for some temporary legislation to relieve the situation resulting from the recent sharp decline in prices.

Next in line probably will be the service men, who through the American Legion have agreed to make "a big drive" for the passage of the four-fold plan of relief as recommended by the legion. Improved hospital facilities for disabled men also will be demanded.

Labor, through the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, has formulated its legislative demands, chief of which is that immigration be suspended for two years. It will also announce that it will fight all proposed efforts to enact anti-strike laws

Business representatives already have announced their intentions of asking deferment of the December 15 taxes because of the business slump. Later it is proposed to demand revenue revision and a high tariff.

The next section of the parade before congress will be reserved for the reforming organizations which want congress to make Sunday "blue"; to legislate race track gambling, boxing and other sports out of the country and to provide for federal censorship of virtually all amusements.
